It can be used to refine an image, align elements in an image, see the outline of an object without the fill color being visible, and add borders to an image. What It Does: When it comes to editing text, the Character tool is frequently used to give certain characters a different appearance. It works by creating an outline around every character that is to be adjusted. The cursor can then be moved around to place points and create the effect you desire. What It Does: You can create a dotted or dashed appearance for text using the Stroke tool.
