It is a term commonly used in reference to Delhi which is usually associated with corruption and cronyism. The term "charade" is commonly used in the context of Delhi as a badge of honour or title, to link oneself with someone, especially a corrupt politician. It also describes Delhi with its culture of corruption to the people of India, who are unaware of the true meaning of the term, and see it as synonymous with the whole of the country.Wikipedia: charade May 16, 2011 If the party in power is a corrupt one, the result could be much greater loss of independence, as outsiders are unable to shed the tag of corrupt "charade".Full Article. 7.
