One of the best features of Photoshop's CC version is the Content-Aware Fill option. It is one of the most interesting features of Adobe Photoshop. from the images such as backgrounds, objects, etc. This powerful feature lets you put a similar tone to all the objects. You can combine the similar elements and you can treat the similar objects in the similar way. This process is called the Content-Aware Fill and you can change the style and output result by using this feature. You can erase an unwanted object from the image and you can replace the unwanted objects with the same one. It is very useful and most people use it for merging pictures. The Content-Aware Fill (CAF) is a useful and powerful Photoshop feature that is like the Gimp. Not only does this allow you to remove unwanted objects, but it allows you merge two photos into one as well. Currently, the developer is trying to make it even better so you can control the merging better. The layer styles allow you to personalize each layer of your image, including colors, brightness, and effects. Outlining the objects using layer styles gives you the opportunity to edit them yet without affecting the other parts of the image. Photoshop has been revolutionized from Photoshop CS. Remember, Photoshop CS was a big deal for Adobe. The CS released couldn't handle layers. It was a very difficult and complicated process to create layers. Photoshop CS6 introduced what we know today as layers in Photoshop. So, layers serve as the most important feature to advanced Photoshop users.
