About me: a freelance web developer and an enthusiast of everything digital. I'm currently working for H2 Interactive, developing and delivering amazing digital experiences through websites and applications. Question: "I'd like to present you with a new website I've been working on. It'll be a clean, modern design, and while I've created quite a few websites, this will be my first purely mobile-compatible one. THINKING... A balance of old-school and modern.
